Section F: Editing for Grammar (6 x 1 = 6 marks)

Each of the underlined words contains a grammatical error. Write the correct word in each of the boxes.

David jumped when he heard a loud noise downstairs, above the sound of the howling wind. He stopped reading and went to the top off the stairs.

(27)

(28)

“Dad, is that him?” he called. David waited but here was no answer.

(29)

(30)

“The wind must have blow open the front door again,” David mumbled to him, as he headed downstairs. He probably had not closed it tight enough when he was calling his dog in. Suddenly the lights went out! David are startled. It was pitch dark and he had to grope his way around towards the front door.

Section G: Editing for Spelling (6 x 1 = 6 marks)

Each of the underlined words contains a spelling error. Write the correct spelling of the word in each of the boxes.

(32)

The giant panda is one of the world's most loved animal. It is ezily identified by its black and white fur. A newborn panda cub is completely helpless. The mother is very protektif and careful in caring for her cub during this time.

(33)

(34)

Pandas are among the most endeinjered animals in the world. There are only about 1600 of them living in the whyld. One of the main reasons for this is that their habitat is being distroiyed. Due to this, pandas are forced to live in smaller areas which are not as sooteble for them. Destroying their habitat also leads to food shortages.

(35)

(36)

(37)

Section K: Comprehension OE (10 marks)

Read passages A and B carefully and answer the questions that follow.

Passage A

A few years ago, after a long morning of sightseeing in New York, my children and I took a breather at Central Park. "Look!" my son said, pointing to a nearby rubbish bin. That was when we saw our first racoon. He ignored us, concentrating only on finding a tasty lunch. He sorted through a few options before emerging with a wrapped sandwich, held between his paws.

Satisfied, he jumped down steadily and ambled nonchalantly towards a spot on the gravel path, less than a metre from where we sat. With his delicate fingers, he peeled back the layers of plastic wrap until the half-eaten sandwich was uncovered.

The he surprised us all. Instead of starting on his food, he turned to a nearby rain puddle and dipped his hands, as if to wash them. He then preened his whiskers, before delicately starting on his meal.

Based on Passage A, answer questions 51 to 54.

For Questions 51 and 52, decide who does the following activities. Tick (✓) your chosen answer. The first example has been done for you. (2m)

	Activities described in Paragraph 1	Raccoon	Author's Son

54. What were the two things the raccoon did just before having his lunch? (2m)

i.		(1m)
ii.		(1m)

Passage B

Roy Tan came from a poor family. To pay for his school fees, he had to go from door to door to sell packets of tissue paper. One hot day, after knocking on many doors and failing to sell his goods, he was very hungry and thirsty. He decided he would ask for a glass of water at the next house. A lovely young woman opened the door.

“May... I... have a glass of water, please? I... am thirsty,” Roy pleaded.

Emma looked at the skinny boy and thought he looked hungry. Without another word, she brought him a large glass of milk instead. Gratefully, he drank it and then asked, “How much do I owe you?”

“You don’t owe me anything,” Emma replied. “Mother has taught me never to accept payment for a kindness.” As Roy left the house, he not only felt stronger physically, but his spirits were also lifted.

Years later, Emma became critically ill. The doctors were baffled. They finally called in a specialist, Dr Tan, to study her rare disease. Dressed in his doctor’s gown, he went in to see her. He was determined to do his best to save her life.

Based on Passage B, answer questions 55 to 58.

55. Why did Roy go from door to door to sell packets of tissue paper? (2m)

56. Write a word from Paragraph 5 which has the same meaning as ‘puzzled’. (1m)
